UNIVERSITY LIBRARY KOBLENZ

Introduction to the Library
Online Catalogue / OPAC

Our Online-Catalogue lists the complete holdings of the Koblenz and Landau university libraries.

Search here for books and titles of journals:
http://aleph1.uni-koblenz.de/ALEPH/

Journal articles are not recorded in our Online-Catalogue. Such records can be traced in the Digital Library (‘Digitale Bibliothek’) or in one of our databases.
The Digital Library is our gateway to licensed and tested free electronic resources and it offers users a portal that makes searching the e-resources easy.

The University Library has organized the resources into pre-selected, searchable sets of databases which can be searched together. The electronic bibliographies and fulltext archives in the Digital Library are a particularly useful tool for locating essays and articles.

Licensed electronic resources may only be accessed by computers on the Campus Network. Members from this university can log on to the Campus Network via VPN.

If an item cannot be located in our library catalogue you can request it via the interlibrary loans service. To do so you must locate the book using the Digital Library search engine.

1) Imagine you have to write a paper about: environmental chemistry. In which subject area would you search? What is the shortcut for the right subject and which subcategory would you choose?

2) Please go to the shelf and bring a book with the right content.

1) Please find the book: Introducing phonetic science written by Michael Ashby.
2) Where in the library can you find it?
3) What other possibilities are there to work with this book?

1) Please find the dictionary of geography written by Susan Mayhew and bring it with you.
library card / Bibliotheksausweis

- To get a library card you need to register. Please fill in the online form (access via Homepage). Then show your passport and your student I.D. card at the circulation desk and we will hand out the library card to you.

- You can access your user account (‘Benutzerkonto’) via our Online-Catalogue. Just enter your library card ID, including all leading zeros, and as password, type in your personal password or the standard password: date of birth, coded DDMM. If, for instance, you were born on May 4, 1989, your password will be 0405. Now you will be able to check the items you have borrowed, and to renew their loan.
